

POLICE KILL TERROR OF MISSOURI TRAINS

Eleven Officers Shoot 'Jack' Kennedy After Robbery of Mail.

LIE IN WAIT FOR HIM
End Career Also of 'Pal' of 'The Quail Hunter,' Typical 'Bad Man.'

WITTENBERG, Mo., Nov. 3 (Associated Press).—The bodies of John F. (Jack) Kennedy, 52 years old, notorious robber of western Missouri, and Harvey Logan, a companion, who were killed early today by railroad detectives and post-office inspectors after the men had robbed a passenger train of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway near here, are in an undertaking establishment to-night unclaimed.

During the day a steady stream of curious persons came to Wittenberg and viewed the bodies of the men, one of whom, Kennedy, for many years had defied the law and outwitted the shrewdest detectives.

The bandits held up and robbed the train of registered mail at Seventy-six, a water tank station near here, unclaimed the engine and ran it here, intending to reach their automobile, hidden in the brush. Eleven officers lying in wait fired and the two bandits fell dead. The mail was recovered.

Kennedy was known as "the quail hunter" following his arrest in Kansas City one winter morning in 1921. There had been a sleet storm the night before, and at daybreak a patrolman saw a horse slip and a rider fall. It was Kennedy, and train robbers' paraphernalia was found in his custody. It was presumed that he was on his way to rob a train, but he denied this, asserting he was starting on a quail hunting expedition. He was released.

Post Office inspectors and detectives received a tip several weeks ago that Kennedy was planning to rob the Frisco train. Kennedy was born and reared in the Cracker Neck district, near Independence, Mo., which served as a favorite hiding place for Jesse James, famous Missouri bandit, and other outlaws. He is said to have been implicated in seven train robberies and a long list of other crimes, serving twelve years in the Missouri penitentiary for robbing a train near Macomb, Mo., in 1919. It was said Kennedy was so expert with a revolver that he could shoot glass insulators from cross arms on telegraph poles from a locomotive cab while the train moved at high speed.

HOSPITAL COLLECTIONS TO BEGIN NOVEMBER 27
$1,000,000 Must Be Raised for Needy by December 11.

William Fellowes Morgan, chairman of the Executive Committee of the United Hospital Fund, announced yesterday that the forty-fourth annual collection will be held November 27 to December 11. The public will be asked to contribute $1,000,000 to pay for the treatment of needy patients in the fifty-eight leading non-municipal hospitals of New York and Brooklyn. The money will be distributed by a special committee without regard to race or creed.

"The fifty-eight hospitals last year incurred expenses of $15,309,710," said Mr. Morgan. "Their earnings amounted to $9,966,845. The income from investments was $2,518,991, leaving more than $1,000,000 to be raised by voluntary gifts."

Turkeys to Be 10 to 15c Cheaper This Season

TURKEYS will be from 10 to 15 cents a pound cheaper this year than last, and more plentiful, P. Q. Foy said yesterday. He added that an effort probably will be made to dispose of frozen turkeys held over from last year at 50 cents a pound, and said it would have a tendency to keep up the price of fresh stock.

Most of the turkeys will come from Texas this year, Mr. Foy said, and it is thought that from 700 to 750 carloads will be shipped out of that State between now and December 1.

3 DEAD, 2 DYING AFTER LOFT FIRE

Driver Lally of Engine 18 followed the chief, bailed by another stream. They found five of the girls huddled in a corner, too strangled and terrified to move and awaiting certain death. Quinn and Lally dragged the girls to a window and handed them out to Ladder-men Elghier and Kammerer.

Two Keep Their Heads.

Down the ladders went Elghier and Kammerer with the girls on their backs and the great crowd in the streets cheered. The firemen killed the blaze in thirty minutes. The property loss may not exceed $5,000. But the panic was the horrible thing. Just two girls retained their presence of mind. Vera Toth of 798 Elamers street, The Bronx, and Tomasina Adams of 80 North Eighth street, Elmhurst.

Willie Vankort, 1208 Hudson avenue, Brooklyn, saw these two girls look around for a way out and called to them to follow him. The smoke and flames had cut off the way to the fire escape. Vankort swung himself up through a skylight and leaning down caught the two girls by the hands, dragging them to the roof after him.

Then he led them to the fire escape and across to the adjoining roof and down through the building next door.

District Attorney Banton was on the scene looking for evidence of violation of the safety laws. Commissioner Drennen told Mr. Banton that he found nothing that would warrant any prosecution.

FIRE RAZES $100,000 STARLIGHT PARK HALL

Blaze in Roller Skating Rink Imperils Neighborhood.

The $100,000 dance hall and roller skating rink in Starlight Amusement Park, 17th street and East Tremont avenue, The Bronx, formerly known as Bronx Exposition Park, was destroyed early yesterday by fire which imperiled the neighborhood for an hour and a half. Thousands of Bronx residents came to the scene, despite a drizzling rain. Police reserves from the Bronx Park, Bathgate avenue, and Westchester Police Stations were called to handle the thousands. When the fire had been virtually extinguished, a gas meter flew in the destroyed building burned out. A column of fire fifty feet high shot up from a three inch gas main. After an hour's work, a detail of men from the Bronx Gas and Electric Company succeeded in shutting off the flow of gas. Battalion Chief Poling believes the fire started from an overheated coal stove in a room from which hot refreshments were served.

The destroyed building, which was fifty-five feet wide and 400 feet deep, was of Italian architecture and was erected in 1916 as the principal and most beautiful building in the old Exposition Park.

A New Novel
By Arthur Somers Roche

A MORE HONORABLE MAN

"If Arthur Somers Roche in 'A More Honorable Man' has not written the great American Novel he has come nearer to it than any other author I know."

"IT IS A WONDERFUL, COMPELLING PICTURE OF AMERICAN LIFE. His skillfully drawn characters, Jim Willoughby, the Magnificent, his lovely wife, Ramsey, and Uncle Frank Dabney, are people every American is acquainted with, and in Sam Foyle, who is there that will fail to recognize his own better self?"

"THE BOOK IS VASTLY MORE THAN JUST ANOTHER NOVEL. IT IS PHILOSOPHY IN FASCINATING FICTION. It is history in dramatic form. It is a film of contemporary American life, powerfully told with epigrammatic phrases, and with a masterful use of English that to my mind will give Mr. Roche a high and enduring place in our literature."—William Johnston of the New York World.
